Cabin Destroyed by Fire

A cabin along Legner Trailer in Grayling Twp. was listed as destroyed by fire Thursday, Sept. 20. Neighbors reported the first at 1:17 a.m. and the cabin was fully engulfed by flames minutes later when sheriff deputies and the Grayling Fire Dept. arrived. The owner of the cabin is Patrick O'Boyle, of Marysville. No one is believed to have been living in the cabin, according to a sheriff dept. report. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Sheriff dept., city police, DNR officers, local citizens, and tracking dogs from Crawford, Emmet, Gladwin, Kal-kaska, and Grand Traverse searched all night for a missing person from Camp AuSable Saturday night. Carol Byers, 23, of Saginaw, returned to Camp AuSable early Sunday morning and said she got lost while walking and took shelter during the night in a wood shed by a locked cabin. In the morning, she said a wood cutter found her and drove her to Camp AuSable.

Byers was discovered missing at 3:30 p.m. Saturday. She returned to the Camp at 7:54 a.m. Sunday.

Winter Training Won't Increase Guard Numbers

By Jon Thompson

Winterizing Camp Grayling will not mean an increase in the number of national guards training at the camp, said Brig. Gen. Jerome Mathieu at a public information session last Wednesday at the GHS auditorium.

Mathieu, Assistant Adjutant General for Army Michigan National Guard, told an audience of about 55 persons that winter training would be trade-off with summer training. If 2,000 guards trained during the winter, that would mean 2,000 less guards training during the summer.

The total number of guards using Camp Grayling in one year would not change, he said.

Mathieu said the guard would like to winterize enough buildings at the camp to hold 2,000 guards. The camp buildings currently can house 6,800 guards at one time during the summer.

"We want to do this winter training because we're discovering that part, and in fact, much of our training must be in an atmosphere conducive to where we'll ultimately be deployed," said Mathieu.

Initially, probably about 2,000 guards will be training during the winter, if plans are carried through. Mathieu said as many as 4,000 guards may train during the winter but most of the two-week annual training will remain in the summer. This year, 36,313 troops used the camp.

Both Mathieu and Colonel Ivan Gwilt, Camp Grayling Commander, said winter training does not mean year-round training. The winter training will emphasize dealing with snow and cold conditions. Annual training still won't be conducted during the fall and spring, they said.

It's possible winter training may not bother as many residents, Mathieu said, because houses are closed and the snow may help diminish noise.

Mathieu said as a result of a Michigan Environmental Review Board hearing concerning complaints about range firing from Guthrie Lake residents, the military will be studying noise and vibrations the next time units are firing. He said every military base in the states suffers the same problems and the Army is trying to find ways to help ease the problems.

He also said there's been some research into new ammunition that gives the same effect needed for training yet causes less noise or vibration. But he told the audience the military can't afford to throw out all the old ammunition, so until it is used up there won't be any change.

Colonel Gwilt said adding winter training to the camp would probably add some employment. Right now he said the camp employs 185 fulltime and 300 summer employees. Mathieu and Gwilt also went over a military "wish list" for the next five years.

Heading the list in a $6.6 million new Mobilization and Equipment Training Site (MATES).

Mathieu said the current MATES needs to be replaced because the main metal building is rusted away at the bottom. Lack of building space forces workers outside in all weather and the buildings are outdated and energy-inefficient are other reasons the military is looking to replace MATES. Mathieu said the new MATES has basically been approved and the military is considering moving MATES closer to the ranges. Moving closer to the ranges would cut down 90 percent of the traffic that currently crosses Old 27 and it would save training time, Mathieu said.

At the public hearing, three persons spoke out in favor of winterizing Camp Grayling and four persons said they opposed the expansion of Camp Grayling.

One resident near the north ranges spoke about military flares starting his roof on fire and artillery rounds falling in his back yard. He asked for a 24-hour telephone hot line to Camp Grayling because of difficulties in the past reaching the camp. Colonel Gwilt said an old telephone system that failed whenever the temperature reached 72 degrees caused most of the problems and a new system is being installed.

State's Unequal Treatment of Schools Outlined at Infrastructure Hearing

The problems caused by the state's classification of Crawford AuSable as a rich school district were brought out last Thursday at a public hearing arranged by Governor Blanchard concerning rebuilding Michigan's infrastructure.

The hearing, held at the Camp Grayling Armory, was designed to receive public testimony about highways, public transit, railroads, airports, water, waste, and sewage systems, schools, parks, and state-owned structures.

Some of the testimony presented by Crawford AuSable Superintendent Kent Reynolds appears here.

The Crawford AuSable School District serves 1,800 students in a 464-square mile geographic area comprising most of Crawford County. The students are housed in four buildings: an elementary school constructed in 1976, a high school constructed in 1973, and an elementary school constructed in 1964. The fourth building houses the middle school and was constructed as a K-12 facility in 1916.

The current middle school is a wood frame construction with the original unloped steam heating system and a 1955 boiler. In the winter, classrooms nearest the boiler often reach 85 degrees in order for classrooms furthest from the boiler to be maintained at 65 degrees. The building still has its original windows and exterior treatment, drafty with no insulating quality. There have been virtually no changes in acoustic treatment. The floors are noisy and the ceilings are high. With the exception of one wing which was renovated in 1955 - when the present gymnasium was constructed as an adjacent separate building and the old gym area inside the main building became classroom space - the original interior configuration remains an inefficient use of space.

Why (as the taxpayers ask) has regular preventative maintenance not been performed? As more efficient heating systems, windows, exterior treatments, and interior acoustical treatment has become available, why was this building not kept up to date and efficient?

Because of the high S.E.V. caused by river and lake resort property often owned by absentee landowners, the Crawford AuSable School District is classified as a "rich" district and as such receives little or no state aid. In fact while National averages show the average district nationwide with 45% of their revenues derived from state funding and 45% of the revenues derived from local funding, the Crawford AuSable School District shows only 2% of their revenues derived from state funding and 95% of their revenues from local funding. This is in a county with an unemployment rate in excess of 18% over the last two years in a medium family income of $14,154. In 1982-83. Other pertinent 1982-83 statistics demonstrating the inability of Crawford County taxpayers to pay: (See chart)

While the state average millage for operation in 1982-83 was 31.4, the Crawford AuSable School District levied 24.1 mills. Proponents of the equity of the state aid formula would argue that this demonstrates that the district is not making an equal effort to support education. The data related to ability to pay shows this to be untrue.

State Hearing Draws 18 Area Speakers

Northern Lower Michigan's infrastructure needs range from new water lines and wastewater treatment plants to making U.S. 131 a four-lane freeway north of Cadillac to Petoskey, according to 18 speakers who testified at Governor Blanchard's and the Michigan Infrastructure Coalition's second public hearing on infrastructure held Thursday at the Grayling Armory.

Broadly defined, "infrastructure" includes but is not limited to highways and roads, railroads, airports, public transportation, water & sewer systems, wastewater treatment, hazardous and solid waste disposal facilities, schools and public buildings of all kinds.

Retiring Doctors Honored

Over 500 guests attended a public reception last Sunday, September 23, at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Grayling in honor of Doctors B.E. Henig and V. Blaha, who are retiring after a medical practice in the Grayling area totaling 60 years for the two physicians.

The doors opened at 5 p.m. and for more than two hours a steady flow of guests filed through the receiving line where Dr. and Mrs. Henig and Dr. and Mrs. Blaha greeted guests.

Dr. Henig has been practicing in Grayling since January of 1950. Dr. Blaha joined him in the Keyport Clinic in 1958; the two remained in practice together for 26 years.

The reception was sponsored by community members and Mercy Hospital. Both doctors received resolutions from the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, the Otsego County Board of Commissioners, the City of Grayling, Mercy Hospital Divisional Board and Medical Staff, and Rep. Ralph Ostling of the 103rd District.

A letter on display at the reception from Congressman Don Albosta indicated President Reagan will be sending letters of recognition to both physicians sometime in October.

Additionally, the members of the committee who planned the reception gave both Mrs. Henig and Mrs. Blaha gifts in appreciation of their years of understanding and support for their husbands and their work. Mrs. Henig received a set of Queens, antique candlesticks hand-made in the 1800's, and Mrs. Blaha received a set of diamond earrings.

Harrison Goodhue, long-time friend of both physicians and their families, assisted by William Joseph, also a family friend, made the presentations.

Both physicians conclude their practice September 30.

Doctor and Mrs. Henig will be spending the winters at their home on Hilton Head Island, South Carolina. Doctor and Mrs. Blaha will spend the winters at their home in Port Charlotte, Florida. Both physicians and their wives plan to spend the summers in Grayling.

Sister Mary Ellen Howard, R.S.M., president of Mercy Hospital, said we will miss these two dedicated physicians at Mercy. "They have contributed so much to the Hospital and the communities we serve. Their dedication and caring is irreplaceable," she said.

DOCTORS RETIRE — Dr. Vernon Blaha (left) and Dr. B.E. Henig are retiring after years of caring for people in the Grayling area. Both doctors are not definite about future plans but are counting on playing a lot of golf.

From Our Corner...

We made it into the Buckeye state and at the present we're sitting at John and Toni's kitchen nook Saturday afternoon and trying to get some of this column done while down here...it's about a seven hour trip and we know we won't be getting home very early Sunday night...Thelma and Toni have gone shopping, John is cleaning out their pool and the girls are watching T.V., so I figured this would be a good time to work on this week's turkey...

The trip was long and tedious for someone who doesn't drive in a lot of traffic...we think our expressways are busy up north with trucks...there is no comparison to the Ohio Turnpike...I have never seen so many trucks in strings, and if you don't drive at least 60 they will run you over...the turnpike has one nice feature, every so many miles they have a rest area which they call a Service Plaza...we stopped at one, and you can get gas, eat, soft drinks, ice cream, a drug store or just get out and walk around...they are really nice...maybe the reason we think they are, is that it gave us a reprieve from the truck traffic for a few minutes...

We got off the turnpike at Exit 7 to Milan and then took 113, a 2 lane road through farm country for about 50 miles to Amherst...it was a nice drive and more relaxing...they are harvesting melons, tomatoes and peaches now...this part of Ohio that we saw is quite similar to northern Michigan, with rolling hills and a lot of trees...

While here we have been reading the Lorain Journal and they carry a spot on the front page called, Today's Chuckle...we take a couple three we thought were cute...Diplomacy: the art of letting someone else have your way"...It's really a shame that all the people who really know how to run the country are all tied up driving cabs, cutting hair and tending bar"...Give some folks an inch and they want to be a ruler"...

What granddaughters won't come up with: the first night we were here Stefany came home from school and told her mother she had made a new friend...Toni asked if her new friend was a girl, and Stefany answered, why of course, you don't think I'd make friends with a boy, do you?...remarks like that you miss if your not around the young...

It was nice seeing our family for the weekend but, when you take two days out of four traveling it doesn't seem like you have even been there...so now it is back in the salt mines for a while...

We received a newspaper clipping the other day from Florida, and it seems that lightning does strike twice in the same place...the note and clipping was from Louie Stillwagon and referred to how Louie two years ago beat a 19-to-1 odds to win a right to buy a transferable liquor license that, state officials said then, could be worth $75,000 or more by 1986.

This year the Stillwagon's 38-year old son, Michael—competing against even more people than two years ago—prevailed over even longer odds—71 to 1—to win the same right.

Of 1,134 applicants, Mickey and 15 others won the right to purchase liquor licenses in Pasco through a lottery conducted by the Florida Division of Alcoholic Beverages and Tobacco.

Mickey currently works at his father's lounge, U-All's Place, on Old Dixie Highway in Holiday, Florida.

This takes care of this week's efforts, have to catch up on work I didn't do last week, so we will bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight, and to all of our readers, have a nice weekend...autumn doesn't last very long...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

RELIGION, MORALITY
AND HUMAN RIGHTS

The present controversy over the relationship between Religion and Morality in American politics, reflects the underlying division between Humanism and the Bible.

To the Humanist, moral values are not absolute. They change with a changing society. Since government is the collective will of humans, a government law determines that which is right and wrong. When the customs or morals of a society change, then legislation is to be passed to make that change legal and moral.

For example, homosexuals pushed to control sexual morality in one national political party's platform. Once "Gay Rights" legislation is passed, citizens of America must accept homosexuality as a normal and moral lifestyle for any citizen. The murder of unborn human beings has already become legal and moral in America under the banner of "Women's Rights".

Once "Gay Rights" become legal and moral in America, what will stop this queer, perverted morality from pushing for sado/masochism, bestiality and pedophilia like that already practiced in San Francisco?

If this perverted morality is not pushed by a religion, why do we have San Francisco's legendary Sister Boom Boom and her Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence (homosexual men dressed like nuns) publicly claiming to "Excoricise the demons" in Jerry Falwell and Phyllis Schlafly?

Bible believing Christians believe all rights come under the authority of God's right. We have no morality except what God has revealed as truth in the Bible. These basic moral laws rise above all religions whether they be Jewish, Catholic, Protestant etc. These God given laws are the simple key to any successful culture. Thou shalt do no murder, protects human life. Thou shalt not steal, protects human property. Thou shalt not lie, protects human integrity and honor. Thou shalt not commit adultery, protects the basic social structure - the home. Thou shalt not covet, protects God's blessings and man's success from the jealousy and greed of others.

The present controversy boils down to a simple question: "Who will control moral decisions of right and wrong in America?" Our forefathers declared us to be "One nation under God". The Humanists want us to be one nation under man.

The nation of Israel once faced the same controversy as America during the period of the Judges. They rejected God's authority and chose personal rights. "In those days there was no king in Israel: every man did that which was right in his own eyes." Judges 21:25. Which is most important, God's right or man's right?

Keeping Healthy

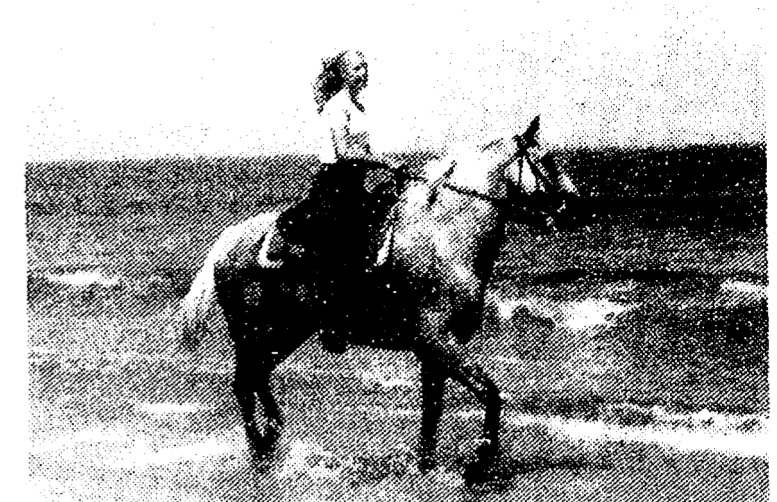

Eating Disorders
"A Public Primer on Eating Disorders" has been written by a specialist on anorexia, bulimia and related eating disorders. Psychiatrist, Felix E.F. Larocca, MD dedicates his soft-cover book to his patients and their families.

There are several treatment approaches used in the treatment of anorexia and bulimia and the St. Louis psychiatrist maintains that eating disorder patients cannot be treated in isolation. At least half of his book is devoted to his BASH group - Bulimia, Anorexia Self-Help groups which have served as a model for a number of others in other parts of the country.

Bulimia is characterized by compulsive overeating followed by laxatives and/or induced vomiting. Anorexia nervosa is a form of starvation characterized by inability to accept body image at anything approaching normal weight. These two eating disorders, which have been linked frequently, have produced deaths in up to one-fifth of individuals with the problem.

How About Being a Cadette?

The plans for the year are being made by the leaders of the Cadette troop. The year is built around you - your needs, your interests, your hopes, your dreams. It's helping you become the person you want to be - and have fun in the process.

You are provided opportunities to discover yourself, find out what you want in life, gain confidence, learn by doing, develop your talents and skills plus have the joy of helping others.

Perhaps the biggest deal Girl Scouting has to offer is the right of choice. In Girl Scouting, the girls themselves decide what they want to do - the kinds of experiences they'd like to have; and interested adult volunteers and leaders encourage them to try all sorts of projects and activities.

If you are in the 7th, 8th or 9th grades you can belong to a Cadette Girl Scout Troop made up of girls who work together, plan together, and play together. Every girl is an important member, and all girls are welcome.

If you would like to be a part of the Cadette Troop contact Dixie Lobsinger, Troop Organizer at 348-9178 for more information. Girl Scouts are supported by United Way.

Try a Political Rally

by Richard Millman

THIS IS the time when American voters are treated to that grand old American past time — the political rally.

The ingredients haven't changed too much in the last century or so. Essentially the person who wants your vote goes to where you are to try to convince you to lend your support.

The trappings may change, but the essentials are the same. In Lincoln's day, for example, platform debates and lecture-hall appearances and torchlight parades were the main methods of getting the political message across.

Today the emphasis has turned to television appearances. Even debates between candidates are arranged for the benefit of the television camera. It's too bad — but it's understandable when you consider the magnitude of reaching millions of voters from coast to coast. Use of the mass media is essential for candidates.

BUT EVERY once in a while, the candidate comes around to give the real people a chance to personally inspect the merchandise. When that happens, we as voters really should take advantage of the opportunity.

Presidential candidates, with their vice presidential surrogates, are the main stars. Of course, this year more people may be interested in turning out to see and hear and touch Geraldine Ferraro than most of the other top candidates; but that's only a blip on the overall political radar screen.

Ronald Reagan and George Bush and Walter Mondale and Ms. Ferraro all have been in Michigan lately, and if you can believe their political rhetoric, all will return. A trip to see and hear them would be well worthwhile.

Not that most voters need such exposure to candidates to make up their minds on how to vote; most decisions are made on bases other than what Mr. Mondale says on the capital steps in Lansing, or Mr. Bush tells the Republican state convention in Detroit.

But at a real, live political rally, you can drink in the flavor of politics and get a feeling about what makes the candidate tick and what his/her supporters (or opponents) are like.

I ATTENDED Mr. Mondale's recent rally on the state capitol lawn in Lansing, and it was well worth my time. It was fun.

No, Mr. Mondale did not say anything new or startling. His rhetoric was as much anti-Reagan as it was pro-Mondale — a development in American politics, incidentally, which we should view with alarm...what-ever happened to that old political truism that you don't mention your opponent's name, because it only serves to give your opponent more exposure? Out the window apparently.

The crowd, in my judgement, was dominated by those already convinced Mr. Mondale should be elected, including many union activists; prominent Democrats whom I recognized on sight; students either busses in from Ann Arbor or from Michigan State University, Lansing Community College and other nearby campuses; and an assortment of political junkies, such as myself.

ALL IN ALL, I thought it was an excellent turnout for Mr. Mondale. Estimates ranged from about 2,000 to about 7,000; I personally set the total at about 4,500, based upon what a capacity crowd looked like at either a Waverly or Grand Ledge high school football game.

State Sen. Allen Cropsey, an arch-conservative Republican, was in the crowd. He said he didn't think it was a good-sized audience, much smaller than when he came down to hear Gov. George Wallace "back when I was a kid." Obviously, Sen. Cropsey classifies as a political junkie, too.

Presidential candidate barnstorming in recent years has been concentrated in larger cities; in the future, perhaps, it may disappear altogether, facing replacement by the pervasive tube.

The same may be true of statewide campaigns, such as those who want to be governor or senator. But congressional candidates, legislative hopefuls and others closer to home will still be beating the bushes, hoping to win support.

The next time you hear of a political rally, go on out. Try it...you might like it.

CONGRATULATIONS to Paul Smith. (R) Winner of the 7-Eleven, M.D.A. bike drawing. The prize was awarded September 8th by store manager Chris Glander (L) Thanks to everyone for their help and support.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

Most of the Indian Pipe I see now is turning from white to brown. This member of the wintergreen family lives on decaying woody plant materials and since the plant does not contain any green tissue, it is unable to manufacture any food for itself. When you look at this plant, it does not look like it would be of any use at all except as a member of the total plant community. Some people, including myself, mistake it for a fungus due to its translucent, waxy appearance. There is a fungus involved because the Indian Pipe has its root system compacted into an almost solid clump of fungus mycelium so the roots themselves do not come into contact with the soil but receive their nourishment from the fungi.

When our ancestors were trying to penetrate the wilderness, they used many native plants for medicinal purposes. The lowly Indian Pipe was used as a mild substitute for opium and the dried plant was used to treat epilepsy, irritability and nerve trouble including chorea (sometimes called St. Vitus' Dance). The early settlers used the plant mainly to treat eye inflammations, and some people even claim the Indian Pipe is edible. It is interesting to note how such a lowly plant helped our ancestors survive in their new home.

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

Upon officially gaining a slot on the November general election ballot, government, civic and socially-oriented groups uniformly announced their opposition to the so-called Voter's Choice amendment to the state constitution.

Rarely do these groups agree, but calling the proposed amendment devastating to the state's economy and recent efforts to bring the state back into good standing in the nation, the various groups have joined together for an "informational" campaign in an effort to get the proposal defeated.

James Briney, head of the Promote Michigan campaign — the group organized against the proposal — said he was pleased the proposal would appear on the November ballot because it would allow the group to, "go forward with a very aggressive campaign."

Governor James Blanchard said he would do everything he could to help the bi-partisan Promote Michigan group that is presently organized to oppose the amendment.

He said he was confident that the group and others would get the message out and voters will ultimately concur that Proposal C is bad for the economic future of the state.

Calling the vote the most important decision Michigan voters will make about the future of Michigan, Blanchard said the successful proposal would not only hurt state government, but local governments and education as well.

He added the approval of the amendment would make a, "tragic signal that Michigan has derailed its economic plans."

The proposal, if adopted, would roll back all state and local taxes to their 1981 levels and require voter approval of any increase in tax rates or changes in the base.

The proposal would also require increases in fees to get either voter approval or four-fifths approval of the state or local governing body.

Additionally, the proposal would also limit all non-resident city income taxes to .5 percent, reducing the current 1.5 percent Detroit non-resident tax.

Jim DeMar of Utica, one of the original leaders of the tax cut proposal, predicted the measure would win in a runaway victory and said, "If I could paralyze state government, I'd be very happy because we are totally dissatisfied with what government has been doing."

In their analysis of the proposal, the Citizens Research Council of Michigan said that subject to restoration by the voters, the amendment would reduce state tax revenues by approximately $1.1 billion, or $1.6 billion if unemployment compensation taxes are included. It would further reduce income tax revenues by about $40 million in Detroit and Highland Park and local property tax revenues in a number of other jurisdictions.

The group's newspaper said the revenue loss would threaten the state's job development as well as road, bridge and water programs essential for economic development.

The council said if business unemployment contributions provided in a 1982 act are held to be taxed under the meaning of the proposal, the potential revenue loss in 1985 to the state's unemployment compensation system would be $537 million.

As a result, Michigan would lose federal interest relief of $25 million or more and $109 million in deferred interest would have to be paid immediately, making Michigan employers subject to increases in their federal unemployment taxes of $500 million to $1 billion. Business costs, naturally, are passed on to customers.

Never before has such a diverse group of interests been in agreement over a ballot proposal. All see the proposal as a threat to the state, the services the state and local units of government are providing for the health and well being of the citizenry and to the future economic recovery and stability of Michigan.

Much will be said about the proposal between now and the November 6 vote. It is up to the citizens of Michigan to be knowledgeable and vote accordingly on this important question.

Make-A-Wish Foundation of Michigan

Ten year old, Jerry Lee Peck, Jr. of Kalkaska is suffering from acute lymphoblastic Leukemia. He had a wish to visit Disney World, Sea World and other places of interest in the Orlando area. His wish has come true for him and his family thanks to the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Michigan.

Jerry is the most recent young person to be granted a wish from MAW Foundation of Michigan. Since January wishes have been granted to 10 terminally ill children in this state. MAW of Michigan recently opened its new office at 102 E. Front Street Suite 207, Traverse City. MAW Foundation is a national organization whose sole purpose is to grant the wishes of terminally ill children through age 18. The Michigan chapter has three needs. First, to let families with those special children know that MAW is here to help with the child's wish. Second, volunteers in key cities are needed to help the Foundation with each wish child in their community. And third, the Foundation needs donations. All wishes are granted almost entirely through private, individual donations or "in-kind" services.

Many individuals and organizations have done special fundraising for the Foundation. Most recently Don and Rosemary Laposky of Kalkaska organized and conducted a drawing which raised over $600 for MAW. The Maple City Cedar Lions Club also conducted a drawing this summer and made a substantial contribution.

J.V.'s Use Big Plays For 28-8 Victory

Paul Anteau led a host of players making big plays for Grayling as he ran a draw play for 85 yards and a touchdown in the junior varsity's 28-8 win over Petoskey.

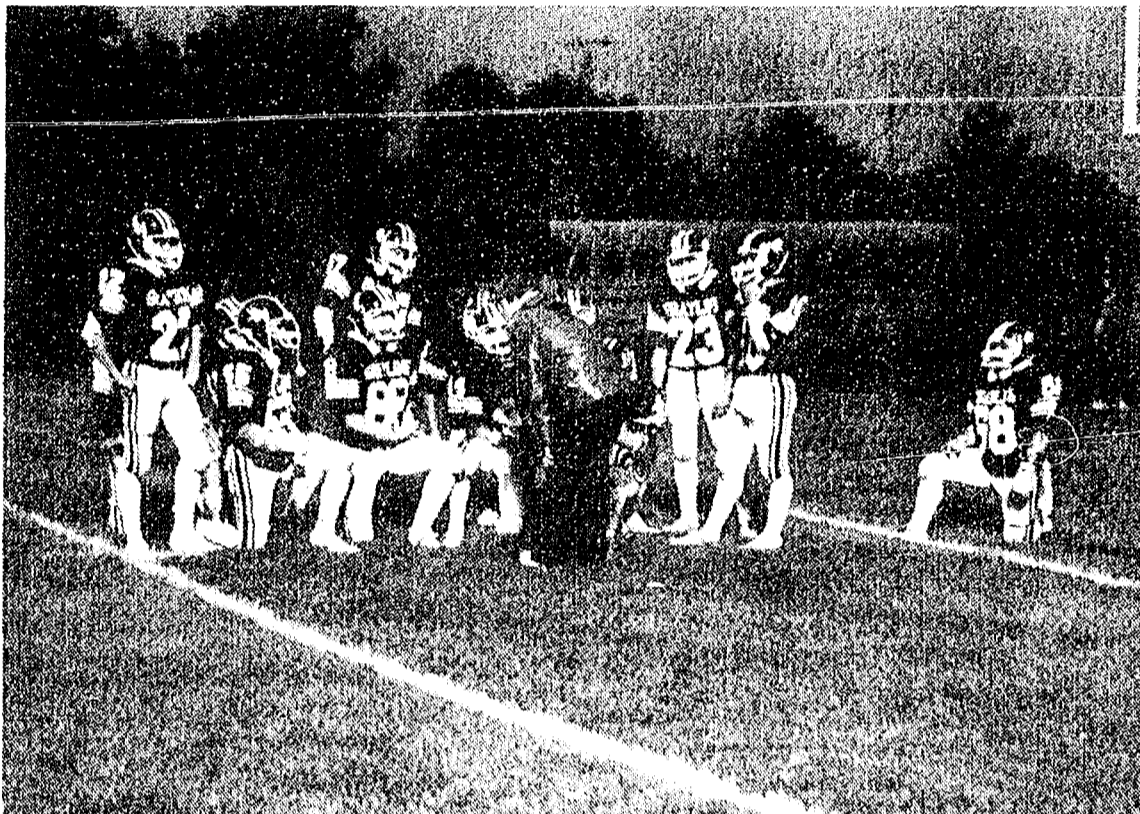

Jeff Palmer caught a 50-yard pass from Todd Klinger to open the scoring in the first quarter. After Anteau's run in the second quarter, Klinger threw a two-point conversion toss to Palmer off a fake kick. Jeff Wolcott added a ten-yard run up the middle for a touchdown and Jason McEvers kicked an extra-point.

Petoskey ran back the next kick-off for a touchdown and added two points. Randy Frier finished the scoring with a three-yard run after breaking loose for a 60-yard dash. McEvers kicked his second extra point.

Everyone on Grayling's team played in the win that evened Grayling's record at 1-1. Grayling was led defensively by Jim Knight, Wayne Weatherly, David Nielson, Jim Laurent, McEvers, Joe LaGrow, Wolcott, Ricky Sprague, Palmer, and Anteau.

Grayling travels to Rogers City Thursday.

Hungry Petoskey Upsets Vikings in 7-6 Game

Grayling came out flat after a big win over powerhouse Cheboygan, and Petoskey jumped on the opportunity handing the Vikings their first defeat of the year 7-6.

Grayling scored first on a 70-yard drive capped by a 20-yard strike to Rod Patterson from Jeff Branch. A 35-yard pass to Patterson and runs by Jon Nicholas set up the touchdown.

Grayling's extra-point kick hit the goal post and fell backwards.

The Vikings led 6-0 at half-time but Petoskey scored in the third quarter. They drove 50 yards and pushed the ball in with a two-yard run. Their extra-point turned out to be the final score of the game.

"Petoskey was 0-2 and hungry for victory," said head coach Bill Klinger looking forward to a home game Friday against Rogers City as a chance to get back on the winning track.

Defensively, Grayling played well stopping Petoskey four times within the 15-yard line.

Mike Wakeley, Lance Davis, Kevin Hudson, Riley McNamara, Patterson, and Mick Lovely led the defense.

Grayling had poor field position throughout the game and on offense was one block away several times from springing Nicholas for long gains.

Grayling's Bench Wins Game

By Jon Thompson

Kim Springer scored 19 points coming off the bench as Grayling hung on to beat Houghton Lake 46-45 last Thursday.

"Our bench played an exceptional game," head coach Tom Mills said.

Grayling's four players coming off the bench, Springer, Shawn Denton, Dawn Phelps, and Lori Pfaff, combined for 24 out-scoring the starting five who tallied 22 points.

In addition to the offense from the bench, Phelps contributed the defensive play of the game when she caused a jump ball in the final minute and won the tip.

Grayling had a 15-10 first quarter lead and a 30-26 half lead but they were getting in foul trouble. Grayling took a seven-point lead into the last quarter but had two starters foul out and three others had four fouls each.

Mills said his team wasn't aggressive either on defense or offense and Houghton Lake almost won the game just by being more aggressive.

Springer led all scorers with 19, Kris Laudenslager had 9, Michelle Barber hit for 7, Heidi Derenzy had 6, Denton 2, Pfaff 2, and Phelps 1.

The win moved Grayling's record to 3-1 as they enter conference play. They traveled to Petoskey Tuesday and face Boyne City at home.

Grayling's first defeat of the year came against Oscoda Tuesday, Sept. 18, by a 61-46 score. The Class B school jumped to a 29-14 half lead and had the Vikings down by 25 points going into the last quarter. That's when Grayling came alive, cutting the lead to nine points within four minutes against Oscoda's starting team.

Laudenslager scorched the nets in the final quarter for 19 points as she led the Grayling comeback. She finished with 29 points. Erin Jones added four, Michelle was pleased with how hard they played. They didn't give up."

Grayling's main problem with Oscoda was turnovers. The Vikings handed over the ball 27 times. They shot a respectable 35 percent from the floor but only put the ball up 48 times. Their free throw shooting again was below par at 40 percent.

We Can Help You Nail Down Your Next Home Improvement.

Well, autumn is the time to turn those home improvement ideas you've been thinking about all summer into reality. And we can help. With a variety of competitive rate loan plans to make those ideas affordable.

And this year, there's a new twist - our variable rate loan. Because the interest rate is lower, the monthly payment is lower. Which means you'll have a few options you've never had before. For example, you can add a few more home improvements for the same payment you'd have with a fixed rate loan. Or, you can do exactly what you want to do - for a lower payment. But no matter what you decide, your payment will stay the same for the life of the loan, even if interest rates go up.

So be sure to see us as soon as you're ready to start. We'll do everything we can to help make your home more enjoyable. With payments that are more affordable.

Editor's Mailbox

Dear Editor:

In July, Congress passed a law that maybe the best health cost containment measure ever adopted, but almost no one knows about it.

The Participating Physician Program encourages physicians to accept the amount Medicare considers a reasonable charge as payment in full on all Medicare claims.

This program has great potential to help curb skyrocketing health costs. But few Medicare beneficiaries are aware of it. The government has contacted doctors to notify them of the program, but it has done nothing to inform Medicare beneficiaries. Patients need to know they can save money by seeking a participating physician. And they need to know non-participating physicians cannot raise their charges to beneficiaries beyond what they were charged during the second quarter of 1984.

In its report accompanying the passage of this law, Congress said that much of the success of this program will depend on the beneficiaries. The American Association of Retired Persons urges all consumers to encourage their doctors to participate. And it suggests that patients demonstrate their support after October 1 by seeking out participating physicians.

Insurance carriers plan to publish directories and install toll-free telephone lines to help beneficiaries find out the names, locations, and specialties of participating physicians in this area.

Sincerely,
Alex Donaldson Pres.

Notice of Public Hearing on Increasing Property Taxes

The Township Board of South Branch will hold a public hearing at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, October 9, 1984 at the South Branch Township Hall located at 5245 M-18, Crawford County.

The Township is authorized to levy 4.00 mills (Two 2) mills for Fire Protection or $2 per thousand SEV and Two (2) mills for Township Operating or $2 per thousand SEV). To comply with Public Act 5 of 1982 the Township and Fire mill rate is reduced to 3.74196 ($3.74196 per thousand SEV).

In order to maintain basic services of the Township, the Township Board proposes to levy an additional mill rate of 0.12902 mills (13¢ per thousand SEV). This will provide an estimated 3.2255 percent increase in the total Township operating revenue.

The purpose of the Public Hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the proposed additional 1984 Township Operating millage rate. Public comment is welcome; however, the Township Board has complete authority to establish the number of mills to be levied up to the authorized mill rate.

Local Distributor Gets Aluminum Recycling Award

Krumrei Beverage, Inc., the local distributor of Budweiser and other Anheuser-Busch, Inc. products, has received the Shining Eagle Award in recognition of its outstanding aluminum recycling efforts.

The award is given out by Container Recovery Corporation (CRC), the recycling subsidiary of the Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc. to distributors involved with aluminum recycling through CRC.

Receiving the award was Genevieve Krumrei, president of Krumrei Beverage Inc. Making the presentation was Bonnie Bartlett, field manager for CRC.

CRC works with several hundred Anheuser-Busch distributors across the country for recycling aluminum cans. Working through the network of distributors, CRC has grown to become one of the nation's largest recyclers of aluminum. Denny & Lee "Illusions" at Kirtland Oct. 4th Kirtland College's Performing Artist Series kicks-off its 1984-85 season with a large scale illusion and magic show by the internationally known magicians Denny and Lee on October 4th at 8 p.m. in the Kirtland Auditorium. The show, entitled "Illusions", brings in elaborate lighting, sound, backdrops and special effects with which to boggle the mind by Denny's impressive brand of magic. Denny considers amusement just as important as amazement so the show's astounding feats are blended perfectly with humor.

The career of the husband and wife team has grown from doing industrial shows for international corporations throughout this country. Their credits also include opening the Glen Campbell touring show. Denny is so well respected in the craft that he was called to Europe to perform his version of the famous Houdini Trunk Escape Trick.

Along with his capabilities of creating the illusions of floating ladies, bodies being sawed in half and people vanishing in the center of rooms and large dance halls with no apparent assistance, Denny is one of the few contemporary practitioners of the famous and dangerous "Bullet Catch"; the magician appears to catch a fired bullet in his teeth! This trick has resulted in the deaths of more than a dozen magicians in its 160 year existence. When Denny was asked if he is afraid when performing the trick, he replied, "I'm not afraid because I know exactly how the trick works and I've done it a lot. I'm nervous about it, though, because it's dangerous and, well, if it goes wrong, you don't get to try it again, do you?"

Tickets for this family show are $4.50 for adults, $3.50 for students and senior citizens, and $1.00 for children 10 years of age or under.

They are available at Higgins Lake True Value Hardware; Flowers by Josie in Grayling; Kirtland College Bookstore; or by calling the theatre office at 517-275-5121, ext. 226. Tickets are also available from the theatre office for the rest of the season's events. The upcoming shows include, The Fantasticks, Boots Randolph, The Lost World String Band, Never Too Late, and Doug Oldham.

GHCC Names Activities Director

Nancy Holcomb is the latest addition to the administrative staff of the Grayling Health Care Center (GHCC).

Taking over as Activities Director, Holcomb assumes the responsibilities of organizing, coordinating and scheduling individual and group activities for Health Care Center residents.

Having opened on March fifteenth, GHCC has rapidly developed an area-wide reputation for quality long-term health care.

Harvey S. Klein, Jr., the Facility Administrator, stated, "The excellent quality of care provided to our patients is the direct result of our employees — they are dedicated, but more importantly, they care. It is because of this dedication and ability to care that we have employed Nancy Holcomb as our Activities Director. We are very pleased to have someone as qualified as her."

Holcomb is also a free lance writer having been published in numerous local and religious periodicals and is a 1982 graduate of Michigan State University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English.

For more information about the Grayling Health Care Center or to volunteer your time contact the Activities Director at (517) 348-2801.

Much of Michigan's infrastructure has reached the end of its design life and is rapidly deteriorating. Recognizing the problem, Governor Blanchard last fall appointed Robert L. Mitchell as the state's Coordinator of Public Investment, and formed the Michigan Infrastructure Coalition, a 70-member association of business, civic, educational and labor organizations.

The purpose of the Grayling hearing, the second of seven to be held throughout Michigan this fall, was to hear local citizens state their infrastructure needs and to gather ideas on how Michigan can begin repairing and replacing its aging infrastructure.

Chairing the hearing was Mitchell, with other panelists including Michigan Department of Transportation Deputy Director Carol Norris, in charge of the state's urban and public transportation systems, and Larry Martin, Secretary-Treasurer of the Michigan Infrastructure Coalition.

A common theme echoed by speakers throughout the public hearing was local government's need for state assistance in repairing or replacing local infrastructure systems. Maurice Carey, Supervisor of Briley Township in Montmorency County, said the community of Atlanta needs a wastewater system but that it "cannot be constructed without funding assistance." Richard Goldfogle, President of the U.S. 131 Area Development Association, Inc., spoke of the need for the state to make U.S. 131 a complete four-lane freeway from the Indiana border to Petoskey.

Both Carey and Goldfogle pointed out how infrastructure affects economic development. Carey said "a wastewater system is needed to promote Atlanta's economic development and ensure its survival." Goldfogle noted the beneficial impact an improved U.S. 131 would have on northern Lower Michigan's tourist, agriculture and manufacturing industries.

Another theme which emerged from the hearing was how Proposal C would intensify local infrastructure problems. George Kourthouer, City Manager of Petoskey, said Proposal C would have "a significant negative impact" on his city, while John Keir, speaking for the Crawford County Road Commission, said Proposal C's impact on road repair and maintenance in his county would be "devastating."

Tim Roache, representing the engineering firm of Gosling Czubak Associates in Traverse City, said the Village of Ellsworth in Antrim County needs a water storage tank, new water mains and a new well. Roache added that the City of Frankfort and the Village of Elberta in Benzie County need a new wastewater treatment plant, and Frankfort needs over $2 million in water system improvements.

Other speakers included Kent S. Reynolds, Superintendent of the Crawford AuSable School District, (see article); Glen Highfield, Vice-President of Marketing for the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company, who said the state and railroads by working together can achieve "economic growth and retention in Michigan," and John Swise, Executive Director of Northeast Michigan Community Services, who spoke on the economic as well as energy-saving benefits of housing weatherization.

The next hearings on Michigan's infrastructure will be held in Detroit, Warren, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, and Lansing. A report summarizing key testimony at the hearings will be issued to Governor Blanchard in December.

Awsome Vision

Spy satellites possess awesome acuteness of vision. Non-official accounts say they can reveal Soviet license-plate numbers, and can even distinguish uniformed personnel from civilians, National Geographic says.

GRAND OPENING — More than a thousand shoppers visited the new Grayling K mart in less than two hours after the store opened at 9 a.m. last Thursday. In top photo, store manager Les Felder and Sandy Nicholas, personnel and training manager, cut the ribbon held by Melissa Finkel and Jessica Dodd, daughters of two of the assistant store managers. In bottom photo, Kay Ellen Junttila, of Grayling, was selected to be the symbolic first customer of the Grayling store. At the cash register is Donna Christenson, from Lansing K mart store 4256, one of 25 extra personnel who came to help opening day with the large turnout of shoppers.

Information on Lupus Foundation

The Northwest Central Chapter of the Michigan Lupus Foundation is currently placing the book, "Lupus Erythematosus: A Handbook for Physicians, Patients and their families", in many public libraries throughout the northern half of the lower peninsula.

This book, which is published by the Lupus Foundation of America, is a valuable source of current information about the disease, systemic lupus erythematosus.

Because SLE (or lupus, as it is commonly called) is most often diagnosed among young women of child-bearing age, the Chapter has also supplied this book to 153 Junior/Senior high school libraries in this same general area.

It was recommended that the availability of this information be brought to the attention of all school personnel who provide health services and/or instruction to the students.

The next local education meeting will be held Sunday, October 7 at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Mercy Hospital School of Practical Nursing, Oak and Hobart Streets in Cadillac. Rheumatologist, Harris Weaver, M.D., will give an "Overview of Lupus" and focus on current trends in therapy.

The public is cordially invited to attend. For more information, call Nancy Hubbard at (616) 768-4266.

Editor's Mailbox

To The Editor:

For years I have heard people complain about the Guards. Few, if any, of us have any right to complain. The camp has been here longer than we've been around. Our family, like most in this community, has benefited from the money these people bring to Grayling. I've heard Grayling's a "tourist town". How many tourists do we get that aren't here because of the guards? Below please find my idea of what would happen to Grayling if we were to go 2 years without the National Guard.

We now have 150 unemployed people, X more houses for sale, and no summer jobs at the camp. The employees at M.A.T.E.S. are either transferred or unemployed along with any other affiliated employees.

Mr. A. says he's retired, it's not going to affect him. He'll sure enjoy the peace and quiet. Mr. B. doesn't care, he owns his own business. Mrs. C. works in a party store. How can it hurt her?

There are approximately 50,000 Guards and their family members who will not be spending money here and 150 people who cannot afford to spend any extra money. Business at the party store is bad and it closes. Mrs. C. and 6 other employees are out of a job. Did it affect her? Mr. B's business isn't doing so good, either. He lays off 2 employees just to keep his head above water. A question Mr. B has is, "Why is there so much unemployment here?" A laundromat closes, a clothing store, etc., etc. A few months later Mr. A goes to his favorite store and the doors are locked. What's a poor retired man to do? This inflation is just terrible. Let's blame it on the President, it certainly couldn't be our fault!

Most business people here realize how much the Guards mean to this area. I'm sure you can see that they actually affect all of us in an economic way. Who are you? Mr. A, Mr. B, or Mrs. C?

Sincerely,
Dixie Lobsinger

MARIJUANA CONFISCATED — Sheriff Joe White holds one of 41 marijuana plants confiscated by sheriff deputies. Sheriff deputies acting on a citizen complaint seized the plants three to five feet high in Grayling Twp. on Sept. 18. There are no suspects at this time connected with the plants. The above photo shows a leaf from the marijuana plant. Anyone spotting marijuana plants in the county can call the police anonymous tip line at 348-6341 ext. 3000.

Chamber Chatter

By Staff

It's not too early to think snow and winter and outdoor fun. That's what the Grayling Regional Snowmobile Council is thinking. They are having a meeting at 7:00 p.m. on October 1, 1984 at the Holiday Inn to lay plans for the coming season and to strengthen the organization with a membership campaign. We cannot stress the need for organized membership strongly enough. There are several valid reasons for a strong organization. A principal one is that any trail grooming on the part of the D.N.R. will be practically nothing this winter. In fact the D.N.R. is suggesting that any trail grooming will have to be done by an organized council who can accept the responsibility for the equipment. It goes without saying that if we are to have good snowmobile and cross country trails, then we will have to become a strong council with manpower and money to run our own program. There is legislation proposed by Rep. Tom Alley to divert a small portion of gasoline tax to support trail grooming. The bills are H.B. 5232 and H.B. 5233. Please urge your legislative Representative to support these measures. Again, the meeting is on Monday evening, October 1, 7:00 p.m. Holiday Inn. We need your membership and support. The Grayling Regional Snowmobile Council.

It is reported that the two conventions this week were highly successful. The Michigan State Police Civil Defense Directors with 175 delegates and the D.A.V. convention with over 500 delegates just flooded the community with shoppers and curiosity seekers. We wish to express our appreciation to the Grayling business people for their generous contributions of souvenirs. Everyone responded and thank goodness we had enough to go around. Just enough, because they're all gone. Each delegate found some kind of souvenir of Grayling in the Registration package. Thanks Grayling! - You did it again. That's the Spirit!!

The Grayling Beautification Committee, composed of citizens who are concerned about the appearance of our community are being rewarded for their efforts. Grayling won an award from "Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc." for their fine job of decorating the streets of Grayling. The award will be presented on October 16 at an awards banquet at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant. Local officials of the organization will be on hand to accept the award.

Buchanan's Cabin Rental, owned and operated by Paula Buchanan of Lake Margrethe joined the Chamber this week. Welcome aboard, Paula.

Hanging On

When you're a kid it's fun! You don't even know there's a law of gravity but you're defying it, you're proving to the world you're fearless.

Later in life the idea of HANGING ON has more serious connotations. The very expression reminds us that there are precarious times in life when one isn't sure how it will all turn out.

For centuries mankind has turned to religion for moral and spiritual strength and endurance. Faith helps us grasp firmly truths that provide a sound foundation for daily living. Trust helps us withstand the downward pull of discouragement, despair.

The hour or so we spend at worship during the week can make a difference in our daily life. Attend the church or synagogue of your choice.

Born into poverty, forced to endure filth and slave labor in a Nazi concentration camp, how did Tania Kaupilla survive? The full story of her life - from Communist Russia to Nazi Germany and finally to the United States - is recounted in "Survivor: A Woman's Search for Peace." It is the incredible story of how a woman with indomitable courage not only survived in the face of unspeakable atrocities, but managed to retain her dignity, her faith - and most important, her hope.

During her childhood, Tania experienced more hardships than most women experience in a lifetime. Born under the dictatorship of Joseph Stalin in Kiev, Russia in 1929, Tania and her brothers and sisters often went hungry while their father tried to find a job. In school, Tania was taught Marxist doctrine and told not to trust teachers, neighbors, friends - because they might bespise.

When Germany invaded Russia in 1941, Tania was twelve. The Russians were told by the Germans that each family must choose one among them to serve in Germany for a three-month period in the war effort. Tania volunteered; she was young and strong, and her father was needed by her sick mother and younger brother. Tragically, Tania first believed the Germans when they promised each person "would be well-treated, given essential war work to do, and returned home at the end of three months better than before."

But her father had an inkling of the truth. "We will meet again in heaven, Tania," he told her before putting her on the train for Germany. It wasn't long before Tania herself realized the extent of the Germans' lies.

When she finally left her family - the only security she knew - she faced frightening, unanswerable questions. How could she survive? Would she ever see her family again? Would she ever find peace?

"Survivor" answers all of these questions and more. Much more. Spanning three continents and five decades, it is a witness to the amazing strength of a woman determined to survive.

I am not here to argue the state aid formula, but to make the point that the failure of the formula to account for ability to pay has forced the district to divert funds from infrastructure maintenance to instruction and auxiliary functions vital to instruction.

Clearly, the taxpayers of the Crawford AuSable School District are and have been paying more than their fair share in comparison to other geographic locations throughout the state.

The state must recognize that S.E.V. is not a fair indication of ability to pay and also must recognize that sparsely populated areas with little or no industrial base have a difficult time maintaining their infrastructure and need help.
